Spirit of Illinois Premier Boys State

Learning about and participating in the functions of government may be the best way young men can learn the American system of government, according to the Illinois American Legion.

Illinois Premier Boys State was the first of its kind in the United States, established 81 years ago in 1935 by the American Legion, Department of Illinois, which is why it is proud to claim the title Premier.

As a mythical 51st state of the Union, Illinois Premier Boys State teaches citizenship and the workings of government through experience. The late cofounder Hayes Kennedy described the original concept of the activity: "Boys State is pure democracy in that all of its citizens may vote and hold office. Its government is operated of, by and for the people."

"In Boys State," Kennedy said, "good citizenship means loyalty, good sportsmanship, cooperation, dependability, responsiveness and keen interest in the week's activities. "Good citizens think before they talk and act only after mature consideration of their plans."

"Good citizens," wrote Kennedy, "are true Americans."

/// /// /// /// /// I am Your Flag

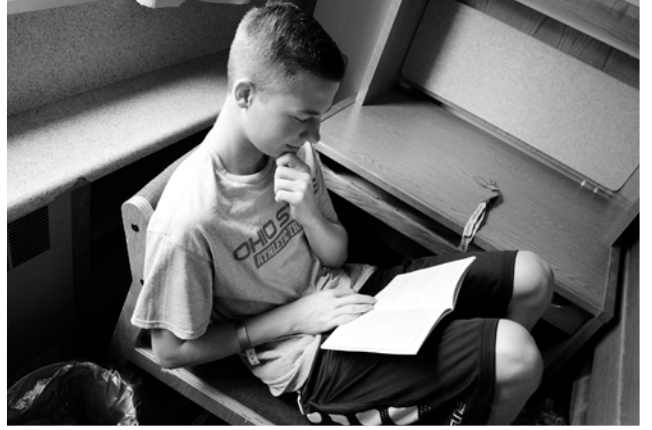

I was born on June 14th, 1786. I am the refuge of the World's oppressed People. I am the sentinel of Freedom. I am the emblem of the greatest sovereign nation on earth. My Red Stripes...symbolize the blood spilled in defense of this glorious nation. My White Stripes...signify the tears shed by Americans who lost their sons. My Blue Field...is indicative of God's Heaven under which I fly. My Stars...clustered together, unify 50 States as one, for God and Country.

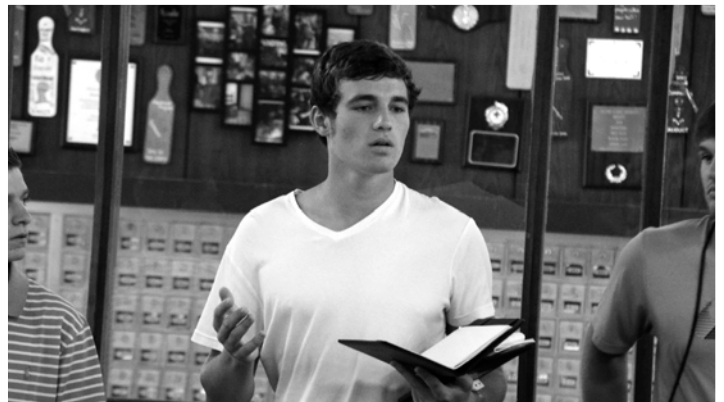

"Old Glory" is my nickname, and proudly I wave on high. Honor me, respect me, defend me with your lives and fortunes. Never let my enemies tear me down from my lofty position, lest I never return.

Keep alight the fires of patriotism, strive earnestly for the spirit of your Republic. Worship Eternal God and keep his commandments, and I shall remain the bulwark of peace and freedom for all mankind.

Assemblies

I do solemnly swear to preserve and protect the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of Illinois Premier Boys State and to perform to the best of my ability the duties and responsibilities of citizenship. So help me God.

With these words over 450 young men began their week at Illinois Premier Boys State 2015. The boys attended seminars in the mornings, including sessions on parliamentary procedure, judicial process, executive process, electoral process, and the legislative process. Each afternoon the boys participated in team sports such as baseball, basketball, volleyball, football, and soccer. In addition to the sports activities, the House and Senate were in session, the Illinois Premier Boys State Band practiced for its nightly concert, the Media gathered and prepared news stories, and Law Enforcement and Leadership Seminars were held.

The boys played an active role in their mock state government. Illinois Premier Boys State consisted of eight counties. Each county had three cities and each city had four wards. From these counties, cities and wards the boys elected their political candidates for official positions such as city, county, and state political committees, aldermen, mayors and county supervisors. At the state level they elected a Governor, Lt. Governor, Secretary of State, Treasurer, Attorney General and Comptroller. They also elected members to the House of Representatives, the Senate and Supreme Court.

The boys were arbitrarily divided up into two political parties, the Nationalists and the Federalists. Throughout the week, the boys participated in political party caucuses in their city and county to select their candidates for the city and county offices. At the state level, they attended their State Party Conventions leading to the state primary and finally the state general election. At each of those party meetings candidates made nominating speeches. The night before the State general election, the candidates for State office appeared at the evening general assembly where Rallies and speeches were heard.

Elections

The essence of leadership is quiet determination.

- Tom Johnson -

VOTE
VOTE

All Illinois Premier Boys State citizens took part in elections designed to teach them about voting and the electoral process in a democratic society. This hands-on experience has helped keep the tradition of Illinois Premier Boys State alive for 81 years.

As they arrived at Eastern Illinois University, each boy became a citizen of one of the 24 cities. They each received a party designation as Nationalist or Federalist.

Three cities combined to form a county. These eight counties comprised Illinois Premier Boys State. The cities, counties and the state created a structure for the election process.

With political and residency affiliations, the politics of Illinois Premier Boys State closely paralleled traditional elections at the city, county and state levels. Realism guided the proceedings as the candidates were required to follow election regulating campaigns and campaign spending limits.

Each city had selected three election judges who were in charge of conducting the elections, tallying the results and reporting the results to the State Election Central for certification of the winners. Candidates were selected through party caucuses using the system of party convention. In addition to the election of Illinois Premier Boys State officials, citizens were elected to serve as senators, representatives, supreme court justices, and county and city officials.

Illinois Premier Boys State

Seminars

Judicial Process Seminar

The Judicial Process Seminar focused on the role of the courts to adjudicate disputes between parties in civil cases or preside in criminal cases brought by the State. The Adversary Process was examined, including a lawyer's role in defending someone regardless of whether they believe their client to be guilty. The seminar concluded with a review of the basis for the rule of law and its importance in the life of the nation. David Benedict taught the Judicial Process Seminar.

We agreed that some counter movement must be started within the ranks of youth to develop a better understanding of our system of government and to instill in them a desire to preserve it.

—Hayes Kennedy
Founding Father of Boys State

Legislative Process Seminar

The goal of any legislature is to represent its constituents' wishes with the passage of constitutional laws. The Legislative Process Seminar of Illinois Premier Boys State centered on the role and function of the federal and state legislatures. Laws are made in a democratic society through a series of processes by which laws are enacted. Discussed were the steps in which a bill becomes law. Joe McCraith taught this seminar.

Why couldn't we bring in high school boys of exceptional ability from all over the state at some central point for a week's functional study of government?

—Hayes Kennedy
Founding Father of Boys State

Executive Process Seminar

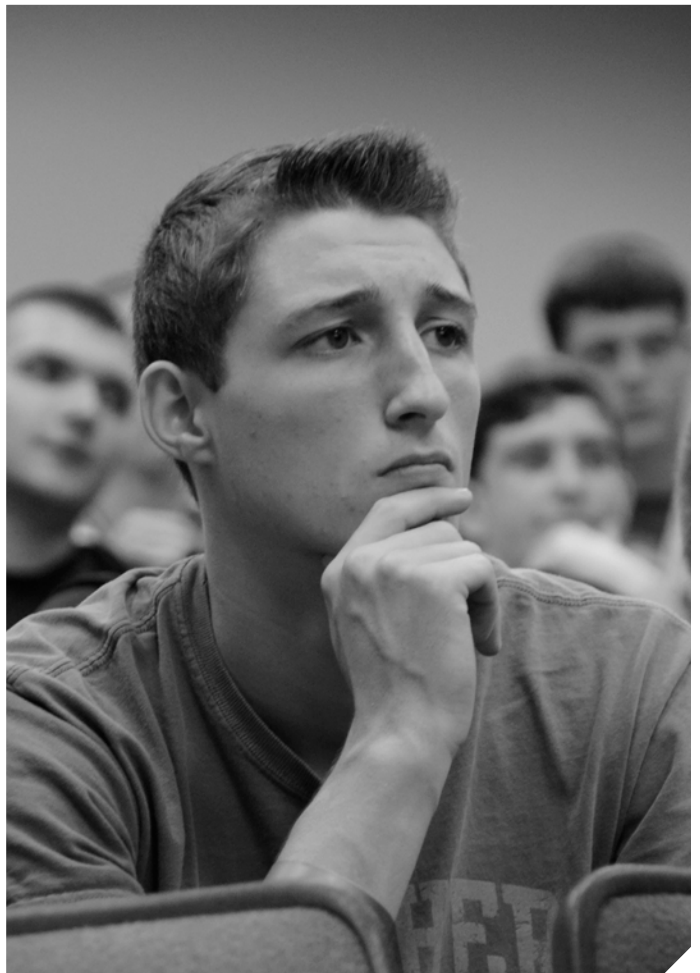

Discussing how government and its agencies work was the goal of the Executive Process Seminar. In this seminar, citizens of Illinois Premier Boys State discussed government financing, budgeting and implementing the government's responsibility to its citizens.

The state's taxing system was one of the topics, and the boys learned many of the details about how, from where and why taxes are collected and dispersed.

The boys also learned how they can better understand, monitor and affect the financial activities of the levels of government that invariably affect them. Instructing the Executive Process Seminar was Chuck Neff.

At Boys State we try to establish that our government is not a relic of the past. It has not outrun its usefulness and it should not be replaced by what Eastern Europe has today. It is just as firm, just as fair and workable as the day it was founded, and all it needs is a clear understanding of its structure, and a desire, willingness, and determination on the part of its citizens to preserve it.

—The Boys State Goal, 1935

Seminars

Electoral Process Seminar

In the Electoral Process Seminar the citizens explored the importance of responsible citizenship. They learned about the duties inherent in participating in a modern democratic society including the critical importance of being an informed voter. The Electoral Process Seminar discussed with the citizens the importance of attaining the knowledge necessary to serve their county as citizens. Father Gary Gummertsheimer was the instructor for this seminar.

After having been at Boys State in 1968, each year I am still amazed how much we can change young men's lives as mine was changed so many years ago. Boys State allows kids from small towns to realize that they can compete with kids from big cities and they all can work together to make a difference.

Father Gary Gummertsheimer

We could train them in the functional aspects of each segment of our government.

Hayes Kennedy
Founding Father of Boys State

//// Law Enforcement

Removing misconceptions about the law Enforcement profession was a goal of the Law Enforcement Seminar. Through this seminar, the citizens learned that the purpose of criminal laws is to protect the rights of citizens with punishment of those who violate those laws being society's means of ensuring those rights are not violated. The citizens were provided insight into the extensive training that law enforcement officers go through to carry out their duties completely and responsibly and an understanding of how the practice of law enforcement influences them as citizens. This seminar was taught by Dustin Barnett.

//// PAC's and Lobbying

The Illinois Premier Boys State Lobbyist program is designed to encourage thoughtful collaboration, and negotiation skills. Members of the Illinois Premier Boys State Lobbyist team brought forward potential bills generated from discussion with citizens for legislative discussion to the Illinois Premier Boys State Senate and House. The Senate and House then debated the legislation, made necessary changes, and finally voted on each item. This seminar was instructed by Michael Flanagan.

Media

Illinois Premier Boys State Media is a daily news production created by a citizen staff overseen by staff advisors. Citizens from each county gathered daily to discuss topics of interest. Then a news production was recorded, edited, and published at the evening assemblies. In addition, an electronic blog of events was available on the Illinois Premier Boys State website for family, friends and the public. For many citizens, Illinois Premier Boys State Media was a way to learn about events happening around Illinois Premier Boys State that they hadn't participated in. Whatever the story, the members of Illinois Premier Boys State Media strived to keep all citizens informed across multiple forms of media.

Party Conventions

Quiz Bowl

The Illinois Premier Boys State Quiz Bowl Tournament pitted teams of 8 citizens from each county against each other in a battle of wits. Citizens answered questions about math, history, science, sports, pop culture, and everything in between in head-to-head matches on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. After winning their respective Wing championships, Conatser faced Gleason in the State Championship match on Thursday. Conatser emerged victorious after a hard-fought contest.

Leadership 101

Leadership 101 recognizes that learning about Leadership cannot only be within a classroom but can also be learned through team building activities. The Eastern Illinois ROTC program participated in the Leadership 101 seminar by engaging the seminar participants in exercises that tested a leader's presence, communication and decision making skills through physical challenges and teamwork. In addition to the process of leadership, the participants learned about practical applications of leadership in the stories and experiences of the dynamic instructors. The academic portion was taught by Jody Stone of Eastern Illinois University.

Dear Participants of the 2014 Session of Illinois Premier Boys State:

Never has our country been more in need of emerging leaders to serve our country than now. Your participation in Premier Boys State prepares you for leadership in your college career and afterward. Your college experience will be a tremendously important one for you. I encourage you to find the college that is the best match for your goals, abilities, and values. Visit the campuses of colleges and find out everything you can about the schools that interest you.

When you are considering colleges, I strongly encourage you to return to Eastern Illinois University to see the energy and community spirit of the University in full session. Our goal is to be the best university in the nation in integrating our students' academic and personal development. We offer small classes, have an accomplished faculty of devoted teachers who are experts in their fields of study, support a myriad of student activities, enable opportunities for service and leadership development, and possess a strong commitment to student success.

I invite you to become part of the Eastern family and learn what thousands of students have learned over the years—Eastern Illinois University is an excellent educational institution, committed to student success and preparing tomorrow's leaders.

Sincerely,
